

NEWS OF THE WORLD AS FLASHED BY THE CAMERA

U. S. Blimp Crosses Continent

Here is the completion of the army's transcontinental flight with a dirigible, C-2 landing at Ross Field, Cal. The big blimp made the 3985-mile flight from Langley Field, Va., without mishap. It successfully blazed the trail for an ocean-to-ocean airway.

Poor Kid!

Probably this baby doesn't know he'll be a king some day. He's the Prince Michael, son of the crown prince and princess of Rumania.

A "Mountie"

Members of the romantic Royal Northwest Mounted Police in Canada are trained to manage their high-spirited horses under all kinds of conditions. Here's a "mountie" making his steed dance.

Calls on George

Barfooted and in chains Ser. R. L. kept the women's golf cup in great Major Walter Wagstaff calls America when she defeated at Premier Lloyd George at 10 White Sulphur Springs, W. Va. Downing street to ask aid for Mrs. William A. Gavin, British cup contender.

Fleeing Before Turk Advance

This Greek refugee, typical of thousands, is fleeing before the Turkish advance in Asia Minor, bearing all his worldly possessions on his back.

Medal for Her

Alice Widner, 18, telephone operator, stuck to her post in a Logan, (W. Va.) office building until the building collapsed, calling aid and saving sleeping persons from death. Now friends seek a medal for her.

Kept Cup Here

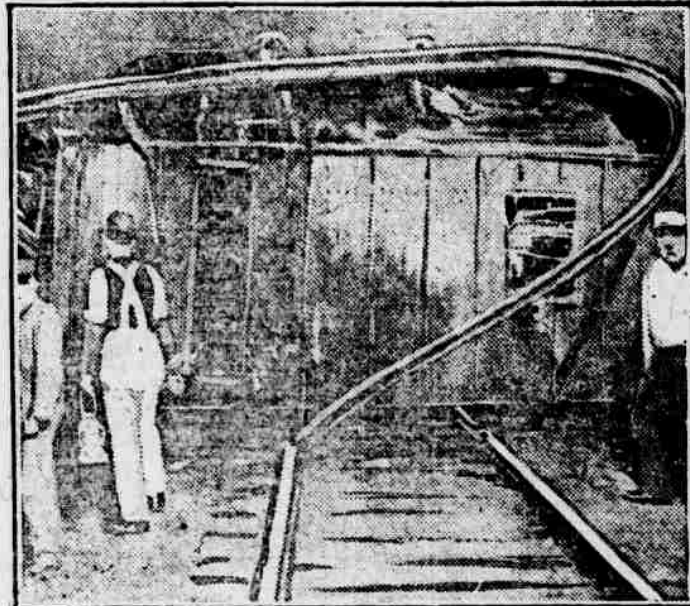

Glenna Collett, 19, Providence, R. I., kept the women's golf cup in great Major Walter Wagstaff calls America when she defeated at Premier Lloyd George at 10 White Sulphur Springs, W. Va. Downing street to ask aid for Mrs. William A. Gavin, British cup contender.

A Lapful of Wilderness

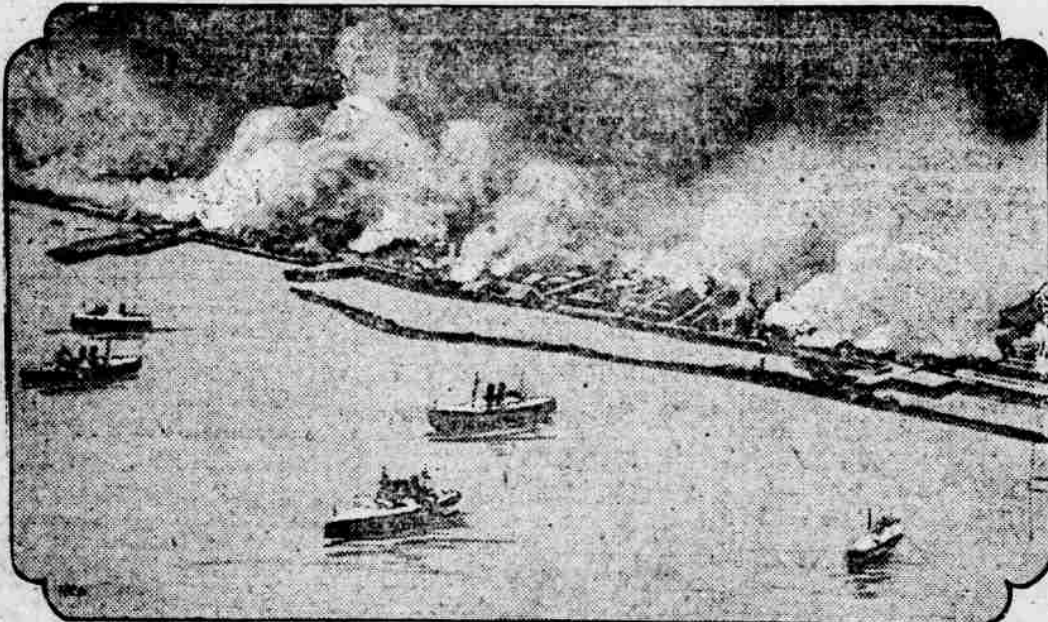

If you're tired of conventional pets, try some little wildcats like these. They came from the Amazon basin. Lorraine Brox, New York girl, says she likes 'em.

Freak in Railway Crash

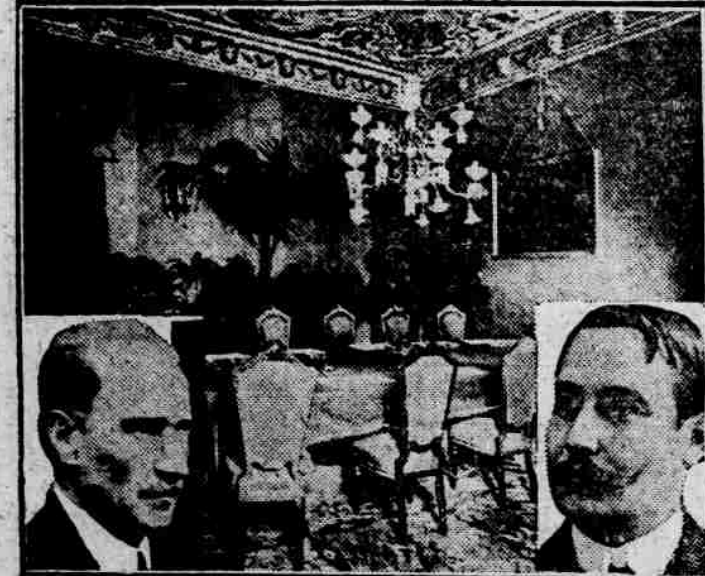

A steel rail bent in this curious manner was the result of a wreck on the Southern Pacific at Montano, Cal., in which 45 were hurt and one killed. Cars were thrown about like playing cards.

Airplane View of Smyrna Fire

This wonderfully comprehensive picture of the burning of Smyrna was taken from a seaplane while the fire that practically destroyed the city was at its height. The picture shows an unbroken wall of flame and smoke, two miles long, and the allied warships riding at anchor in the harbor. These photographs of the Smyrna horror were rushed by courier and airplane from Constantinople to London. There they were turned over to another messenger who brought them to America on the liner Aquitania.

Where Turk Crisis May Be Solved

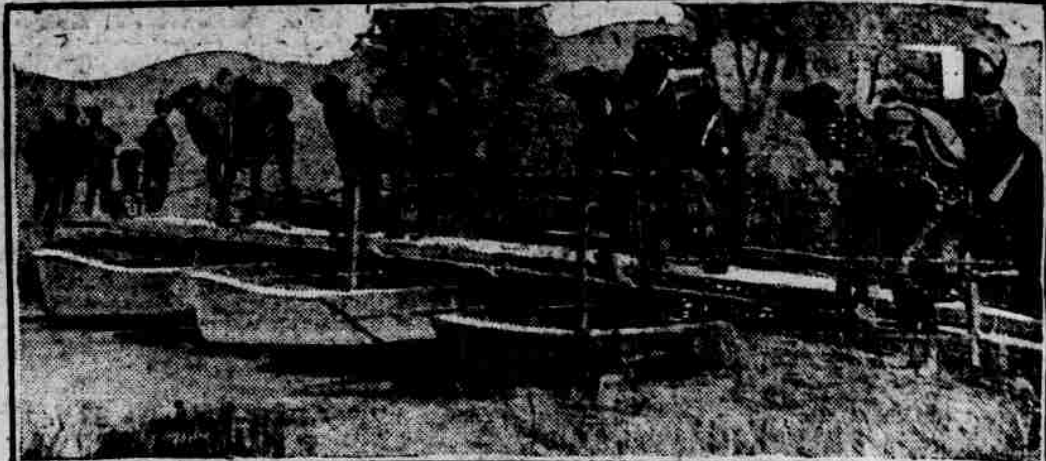

The conference hall at Venice, Italy, where Turkish Nationalists and allies may adjust differences. Left inset, Mustapha Kemal Pasha, Turkish Nationalist leader, in civilian attire. Right inset, Franklin Boulikos, French diplomat, who'll be chief spokesman for the allies.

Hero for $3

Otto Benninger, life guard at Ocean Park, Cal., saved 100 from drowning this season—nine in one afternoon. For this he gets $3 a day. "And no thanks," says Otto.

Camels Are "Army Mules" in Levant War

The camel takes the place of the American army mule in fighting in Asia Minor. Here a train of the heavily laden beasts is passing across a closely guarded bridge. Wonder how they swear at a camel!

New Clock

C. F. Meyer, paymaster of the National Cash Register company, Dayton, O., has invented a new decimal clock with the hour divided into ten sections of six minutes each. It's used in figuring employees' time at the factory.

Playmates

David Malone, Washington, likes to spend his spare time in the National Zoo playing with this baby lion. They're great friends.

Jennie Gets a Shave

Though she's a lady elephant, Jennie is shaved regularly by George Power, her trainer, in a New York theatre. The razor is four feet wide, the shaving brush a foot long—and a pail serves as shaving mug.

Irish "Joan of Arc"

Maudie Gonna MacBride, Irish feminist leader, is referred to by Sinn Feiners as their Joan of Arc. She recently was expelled from the gallery of the Irish Parliament for heckling speakers of the pro-treaty faction.

Orphans of the Fire

They saved their bedding all right—but not their parents. These two little refugees who were found wandering about the ruins of Smyrna were taken on board the hospital ship Maine, which carried them to the British colony at Malta.

Guess What

Leader of the Ku Klux Klan as dressing his followers? No, the veiled statue of Edmund Burke, British friend of the American colonists, which will be unveiled at Washington, Oct. 12.